Texas Shootout brings today's hottest poker game -Texas Hold'em, to the casino floor. Never before has there been this much excitement over a house banked poker game. Unlike traditional Texas Hold'em, each player plays "heads-up" against the dealer. In addition, players have the opportunity for huge instant winnings with the optional "Shootout Bonus" wager.

PRIMARY BET

After placing your Primary Bet and, if you choose to do so, your Bonus Bet, you and the dealer start play by receiving four (4) cards each. You then have the choice of either keeping two (2) cards and discarding two (2) cards or splitting your hand. If you split your hand, you will have to match your original Primary Bet.

BONUS BET

You have the option of placing an independent Bonus Bet. The difference between the Bonus Bet and the Primary Bet is that the Primary Bet is against the dealer and the Bonus Bet is against the "Shootout Bonus Paytable." You can lose the primary wager and still win the Bonus Bet.

SPLITTING

When you receive your four (4) cards, you have the option of splitting and making two (2) hands. Should you elect to split, your primary bet will need to be duplicated. If the player originally placed the optional Shootout Bonus wager, they may place a second Shootout wager up to their original Shootout wager. The best strategy is to split only if you have 5's and 6's of the same suit, pairs of 7's or better, an Ace and King, or same suited Ace and Queen or Ace and Jack.

THE FLOP

The dealer "Flops" five (5) common cards. Using these 5 cards, plus your 2 cards, make the best 5-card poker hand possible.

THE WIN

Beat the dealer's hand to win. Remember the dealer wins all ties. Unlike the player who can keep any two (2) cards they choose, the dealer must play two (2) cards within a strict predetermined fashion referred to as "The House Ways."
